

Occupational Therapy

Practice Educator Information Session Dates 2021-22

The University of Derby, Sheffield Hallam University and University of Lincoln work in collaboration to provide educator training and updates. This means that staff only need to attend one course from one university and they can support students for any of these universities.

There are a range of educator training updates available. For those new to clinical education, there is a 'New educator training course/L'APPLE' and for experienced educators requiring an update there are educator update sessions.

The University of Lincoln offers education sessions which are subject specific, we are currently awaiting further

In addition to the above, The University of Derby offers:

- 'Educator Debriefs' which follow placements and are an opportunity to discuss learning experience
